Livelihood for Women

PROJECT REGION:

BRIEF DESCRIPTION:

EMPOWERMENT OF WOMEN

Gender bias against women is one of the issues in POPULATION & DEVELOPMENT in the Philippines where male dominance in the family and society is practiced especially among the poor. This has led to the isolation of women and the lack of social support for the rights of women-especially where her reproductive rights are concerned. As a result women are generally marginalized, have no say in determining the number of children she would like to have, no decision making role in the family, and have low self esteem.

The RCC, GARMENT WORKERS MULTI-PURPOSE COOP was organized to uplift the status of women in their families and communities through employment. By being the income earner in the family, they are able to improve their roles in their own family and society, are able to feed, educate and care for their children properly. From 1990-2000 they were exporting garments to Japan and the US as a garment subcontractor. However with the Asian crisis, their markets dropped and their factory closed down. With borrowed sewing equipment they were able to tap the local market and saw their business growing. To meet demand and compete effectively in the market, they are in need of their own sewing equipment. Their small savings they have generated in their business will be used for operating expenses and the purchase of raw materials. The RCC has been actively supporting the club in many of its health and education programs volunteering their services for free. They have assisted in training women in poor communities in Bohol develop sewing skills and producing souvenir items for tourists coming to Bohol. They have been donating their excess production runs to Disaster Relief victims sponsored by the Rotary club of Mandaue East

PROPOSAL FOR WCS FUNDING BY KAINAN EAST ROTARY CLUB

TYPE OF PROJECT:

Day Care Centers

PROJECT REGION:

ASIA

BRIEF DESCRIPTION:

The first 5 years of life is crucial to the child-during this period 50% of physical development and 90% of brain development occur- the child's mind is receptive to functions like math, language, music and physical activity. These windows of opportunity should be addressed by day care centers that prepare the child for formal education and the challenges of life to become productive citizens.

But many villages, particularly the squatter communities that need them do not have day care facilities for the early childhood development of children. About 40% of the population in the cities of Cebu, escaping the war and lack of employment in their hometowns transfer to the cities where they live in overcrowded, unhealthy slum areas. The government provides assistance for setting up day care centers only for those communities that can provide permanent land for the day care centers. This disqualifies most of the slum communities because they do occupying public lands where they they face the danger of being evicted anytime.

The Porta- Day Care Center which the club is trying to promote intends to solve this problem. The club intends to run a contest inviting architects, shippers and engineers to produce a viable day care center that can easily be relocated when the squatters are evicted. The target date for the contest will be during the celebration of ROTARY WEEK in February 2004. The day care prototypes will be donated to the slum areas that are willing to enter into an arrangement with the club. The conditions are : the communities will operate the centers, provide the day care workers, ensure that the center is properly maintained , organize the mothers into an RCC to participate in self-help Rotary livelihood, health, reproductive health programs in the community. BRIEF DESCRIPTION:

Philippine nurses, caregivers and midwives are very much in demand all over the world. Thousands leave yearly to take up health services jobs abroad. It is ironical that reproductive health service providers, birth attendants, and midwives are almost absent in most of the villages in the Philippines. As a result, infant mortality, malnutrition, maternal deaths, sexually transmitted infections, violence towards women are prevalent in many of the poor communities. This program will give additional training and motivation for midwives and reproductive health service providers(RHSP) to include in their family planning programs, prevention of violence against women- 6 out of 10 women are battered by their spouses. The Health providers will be trained on skills and protocols about dealing with victims and provide them with support beyond the clinical management. The goal is to have the service providers encourage changes in public attitudes about women's autonomy and men's behavior. The specially trained service providers will be organized into an RCC so they can avail of support from Rotary. There have been many forums and discussions sponsored by representatives of UN, WHO, and other International organizations in the Philippines but this is the first time a project on integrating the rights of women with reproductive health and Family Planning services will be put into action

THE "PORTA-DAY CARE PROJECT" IS ROTARY'S RESPONSE TO THE NEED FOR PORTABLE , QUICK-INSTALLING, AFFORDABLE, INNOVATIVE, & CHILD-FRIENDLY DAY CARE FACILITIES.

Why “Portable Day Care Centers” ?

- There is an acute and urgent need for day care centers
- The portable day care center concept eradicates the need for a permanent lot or space for a day care structure
- There are a number of informal settlements/communities where there is no available permanent space for a center
- Construction time and costs can be drastically reduced
- Its modular feature allows easy expansion of the structure
- Developing modular prototypes will offer better visualization and appreciation by prospective sponsors and will therefore have a positive effect on resource generation.
- Developing modular prototypes through a local design and construction competition will help popularize the day care concept among professional constructors, suppliers, and the general public and generate local concepts on innovation and improvement.

Mechanics :

- Organize a modular day care design and construction competition among local constructor, builder, and supplier groups utilizing used shipping containers as core structure
- The competition shall focus on the following criteria : cost, construction speed, compliance to DSWD day care standards/specifications, use of local resources, design and cultural considerations, end-user acceptability (worker, parent, children).
- Used shipping containers shall be provided by the Rotary Club of Cebu Port Center
- Rotary clubs and commercial sponsors shall be mobilized to supply needed materials for the construction/competition
- The winning entries/prototypes shall be donated to the Cebu City government
- Rotary International D3860 shall automatically own the submitted design entries
- The winning designs shall be used by RI D3860 to promote further interest and support from prospective local and foreign sources to day care center construction in other areas.

Proposed implementing organizations :

- Rotary International District 3860
- Skills Olympics Foundation, Inc.
- DSWD F.O. 7
- Cebu City Government
